

The SIGHTS of ATHENS

1 ACROPOLIS, one of the great wonders of the world, actually consists of four ancient buildings; the Parthenon, Temple of Athena Nike &, the Erechtheion, and the Propylaea. The acropolis was built during the apex of Greece's Golden Age in the 5th century BC. Throughout history, it has served as a military fortress and religious center. The entrance is on the southwest side at Dionysiou Areopagitou street. It is a 5 minute climb to where tickets can be purchased. The Acropolis Museum is located on the Acropolis and contains sculptures found in the Acropolis. Areopagus is the ancient supreme court from which St Paul addressed the Athenians in 54 AD, and converted Senator Dionysius who became the first bishop of Athens.

2 ANCIENT AGORA was the administrative center and marketplace of Athens from the 6th century BC to the 6th century AD. This archaeological site features three remarkable constructions: the Temple of Hephaestus, the best preserved classical temple in Greece; the Odeon of Agrippa the concert hall; and Stoa of Attalos, a multipurpose building now housing the Agora Museum. Pnyx, also located in the Ancient Agora, was the meeting place of the general assembly during the Golden Age. A quorum of 5,000 citizens was necessary to take a vote. It now serves as the location of the Sound and Light show as well as an excellent photo opportunity of the Acropolis.

3 PLAKA is the older area of the city located on the north slope of the Acropolis. You can walk the narrow cobblestone streets with winding staircases and old mansions, or take a rest in one of the numerous tavernas. There are also a number of tourist shops as well as a few ancient sites worth visiting. The Tower of the Winds, located in the Plaka area, is one of the most well preserved monuments in Athens. It was built in the 1st century BC and used as a water clock, sun dial, and weather vane. Each of the eight sides of the octagon has a relief depicting the wind that blows from that direction.

4 PANATHINION STADIUM was constructed in 1896 for the first modern Olympiad.

5 The NATIONAL GARDENS are open from Sunrise to Sunset and are located adjacent to Syntagma Square. This delightful garden is a retreat from the noise and heat of the city.

6 DIONYSOS AND ODEON THEATERS, are located just below Acropolis Hill. Dionysos once hosted plays of Euripides, Aristophanes, Sophocles, and Aesculus and could hold up to 17,000 spectators. The Odeon of Herold Atticus amphitheater was built in the second century AD. It has been reconstructed and is used during the summer to host Athens Festival performances.

7 HADRIAN'S ARCH was built by the Roman ruler in the 2nd century. The architectural remains as seen from the outside are well preserved.

8 The PARLIAMENT BUILDING near Syntagma Square has a changing of the guard every hour on the hour. The guards friendly demeanor is as delightful as their attire – Pom-pom-laden clogs, short pleated skirts (foustanela), and pony-tail-tasseled hats. This is the location of the Tomb of the Unknown Warrior.

9 Along the impressive street of AKADIMIAS you will find the Athens University, National Library and Hellenic Academy.

Other sights in Athens

MONASTIRAKI SQUARE is the core of the market area and a great place to bargain for souvenirs. The flea market is located next to the Monastiraki metro station just off Monastiraki square. The best time to visit is Sunday morning.

NATIONAL ARCHAEOLOGICAL MUSEUM at 44 Patission St., is one of the largest and best museums of Greek artifacts in the world. It contains archaeological finds from all of Greece, from prehistoric times through the Byzantine period. Descriptions are listed in Greek, English, French, and German.

LITTLE METROPOLIS, dating back to the 12th century, is one of the most charming churches in Athens. Above the entrance you will find reliefs of figurines and interesting displays of zodiac signs. Beautiful frescos on the outer walls are covered with reliefs dating from the Classical to Byzantine periods.

MT. LYCABETTUS, the highest hill in Athens, offers an excellent panoramic view of the city from all sides. The summit, at 912 feet, can be reached by foot, car or funicular which operates from the Kolonaki side of the hill. On the top you will find a tiny 19th century chapel of St George as well as a restaurant.

BENAKI MUSEUM contains ancient Greek and Byzantine art, icons, costumes and folk crafts from the islands, and relics from the War of Independence. Descriptions are in Greek and French.

BYZANTINE MUSEUM is the only museum in Europe concentrating exclusively on Byzantine art. Each room is arranged to look like Greek churches of different eras and the outer wings contain mostly icons. The outer grounds are also worth a visit with beautiful rose gardens, a fountain, and fragments of statues. Descriptions are in Greek and French.